The B movie, whose roots trace to the silent film era, was a significant contributor to Hollywood's Golden Age of the 1930s and 1940s. As the Hollywood studios made the transition to sound film in the late 1920s, many independent exhibitors began adopting a new programming format: the double feature. From famous ad campaigns to cultural movements, here are some of the moments that stand out over the last 100 years of advertising. We are celebrating the next 50 years of planning by taking a look into the start of it with our new timeline category, Planning view now.. One of my all-time favorite movie sequences is only a few seconds long. It's a scene from the 1985 movie "Back to the Future", where a dazed Marty McFly (Michael J. Fox) has just been unwittingly transported back thirty years in time, to 1955. When many of us think of perfect physiques, we think of those belonging to Golden Age bodybuilders. These champions of the past were muscular, strong, healthy, and athletic. It's cliché but it's true: women wanted them; men wanted to be them., Golden Age Advertising 70s.
