Papier Mache arts It's not surprising that papier mache originated in China, being the original inventors of paper. It is recorded that during the Han Dynasty (BC 202 – AD 220), lacquer reinforced papier mache was used to create helmets followed by other 3 dimensional objects in the decorative arts. Papier-mâché: With this technique I can create three-dimensional shapes and bas-reliefs, using moulds made from clay models as discussed above. The technique of papier-mâché allows me to create lightweight pieces that often get used in installations. These biodegradable papier mache shapes are made from recycled waste products (e.g. old newspapers, cardboard etc). Each piece has been hand-made using 100% recycled materials and organic glue.
